A flexible learning ecosystem

How we work

OneHive is a hybrid of a L&D consultant and SaaS solution, with the ability to tailor our system to your bespoke needs, maximising impact.

“This approach as enabled us to drive economic growth for the UK by developing a more representative and engaged future”

- Sir Lord Tony Sewall, MBE of Sanderstead, Generating Genius

“We would have struggled to deliver the programme without a platform like OneHive to manage and track the progress our large cohort”

- Emma Ward, Head of Operations, Warwick Innovation

“It's not just a platform, it's a living ecosystem of changemakers turning collaboration into measurable transformation.”

- Dominic Knight, author of 3 times bestselling book, End Gamers

“The platform is opening doors for young people and creating real opportunities that directly impact local communities”

- Jerome Harvey-Agyei, Youth Participation Lead, Mayor of London Office

Training sales teams with gamified challenges

“We were struggling to get our sales team to carry out the necessary L&D. By working with the OneHive team, we increased engagement by making it competitive.”

– Chloe Wooden, Head HR, Sustainable Wealth Group

Breaking Barriers to Scale

The current content wasn't structured, making it difficult to access, and therefore track completion

Enabling Personalised Learning

Splitting into Teams meant line managers were given visibility of progress, enabling them to support

Empowering Tech for Good

The SWG team are able to help develop talent at an early stage, and build a more scalable business

Mentoring 6,000 students over the next 3 years

“Working with the OneHive team has enabled us to scale up our capability and capacity, enabling the Junior Genius proposition to support students all across the country.”

– Zindzi Sewell, Programmes & Partnership Lead

Breaking Barriers to Scale

Enabled a London based team to engage students and mentors all across the country through 13 schools

Enabling Personalised Learning

Auto-recommending the best mentor for a student, streamlines allocation and improves student engagement

Empowering Tech for Good

The system brought Generating Genius' vision to life, enabling them to build a plan to reach 6,000 students

Deployed in schools in these academy trusts

Tailoring a tech skills bootcamp for teenagers based on data

“With help and support of OneHive, YBF has been able to provide and open the world of digital learning to a wider audience by tailoring the programme to the students’ interest.”

– Chris Murray, CEO, Young Brent Foundation

Breaking Barriers to Scale

Maximising participation with a simple sign up process and auto-reminders of sessions to ensure attendance

Enabling Personalised Learning

Using the data of the students to combine common interests with digital skills to create an engaging bootcamp

Empowering Tech for Good

The system set a benchmark of best practice which is now deployed across other programmes they run
